

FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

Raymond Villanueva
(RAY-mund vee-yah-NWAY-vah)
Assistant Director, Office of International Operations

Raymond Villanueva is the Assistant Director for the Homeland Security Investigations, Office of International Operations. In this position, Mr. Villanueva is responsible for a budget of more than $160 million and the operational oversight of 62 offices in 46 countries and 8 Department of Defense liaison offices with over 400 personnel. Mr. Villanueva has more than 22 years of law enforcement experience.

Mr. Villanueva began his law enforcement career in 1994 as a Police Officer with the Puerto Rico Police Department where he was subsequently promoted to a criminal investigator position assigned to the U.S. Customs Service Task Force, Office of the Special Agent in Charge San Juan.

Since joining Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Homeland Security Investigations (HSI), Mr. Villanueva has served in numerous key positions ranging from group supervisor for the Financial Crimes/Asset Forfeiture and Removal Group at HSI Buffalo, NY, section chief for the Illicit Finance and Proceeds of Crime Unit in Washington, DC, unit chief for the Trade Transparency Unit (TTU) in Washington, DC, Assistant Special Agent in Charge for the HSI San Juan Office and most recently as the Deputy Assistant Director for HSI International Operations.

Mr. Villanueva is a member of the Senior Executive Service.